Kevin gets married

THE Chair of the Nachinwea Link, Kevin Bushiri, became a married man in December.

Kevin wrote:

“I and Safinia are now Mr & Mrs Kevin. We already have accepted to be in marriage until death will make us apart. On last Saturday 2nd /December 2023 was our wedding day. The day that will never be forgotten when I was in suit as bridegroom and she was in white unique dress as bride.

“We were so happy for our dream being true. This new journey started after being in relationship for 15 years that means since 2008 she was only my girlfriend and fiancée but now we are Mr and Mrs Kevin. Even heaven and earth know about it.

“The wedding mass service took place at St Andrews Anglican church, Nachingwea. Priest in charge Rev Masimosya led the service. The church was full of people and three choirs (Upendo choir, Ebenezer choir and Tumaini choir) sang different songs rich in marriage messages.”

Christmas Tree Festival

THE Link displayed a tree at the Festival at St Andrew's, Stapleford at the beginning of December.

The yellow labels on the tree were used to provide information on the activities of the Link to visitors.

The Festival was in aid of the Stapleford Community Warden Scheme.

Thanks to all who helped especially Mary Cooper, the designer and decorator of the tree.
